

On April 21, 2010 PatientNOW agreed to settle, for an undisclosed amount, a lawsuit brought by NexTech. PatientNOW apologizes for any confusion created by its multiple mass email advertisements claiming that “PatientNOW is ½ the price and same functionality as NexTech”.

These claims were without factual basis. In fact, when these statements were made between August 2006 and May 2008, NexTech software had more functionality than Patient NOW software and NexTech’s pricing was flexible based on modules and configuration.

Persons seeking information about the functionality and pricing of NexTech software should contact NexTech directly at www.nextech.com.

PatientNOW further apologizes for the actions of its senior management and staff in improperly obtaining information about NexTech in January 2009.
